Big year ahead, say psychics

ANOTHER ROYAL BUB, WORLD CUP TRIUMPH FOR BRAZIL, AND MINI-PROPERTY BOOM TIPPED

BRAZIL will win the FIFA World Cup, William and Kate will have another baby and unemployment will rise to 7 per cent if local psychics' predictions for 2014 prove accurate.

Leanne O'Neill, from Sense of Spirit in Mt Gravatt, said it would be a productive year for Australia in repairing relationships with Indonesia and for cementing more balanced trade agreements with China and Korea.

"Asylum seeker boats will continue to head towards Australian shores until a more practical, compassionate and peaceful approach towards resolving the issue is found," Ms O'Neill said.

"The Federal Government will order a review of migration policies around August 2014 and Brazil will be successful in its bid to win the World Cup in front of their passionate home crowds.

Intuitive healer Rebecca Smalley said 2014 would be about "getting the mind to move over so that the heart can take over the lead, bringing with it more creativity and greater sense of community".

Sunnybank-based psychic medium Linn Davies predicts "haywire" weather patterns around Brisbane with increased storms in February.

She said Prince William and Princess Kate would announce another pregnancy before mid year and a major US manufacturing company would go "belly up".

"There will be a mini real estate boom in 2014 but it will be short-lived. Unemployment will rise to 7 per cent," Ms Davis said.

vox pop What are your New Year's resolutions for 2014?

YASMIN KHAN
Queensland Eidfest Association president

"This year, Insha'Allah (God willing), I want to start a few community initiatives, around the domestic violence arena, and plan a great Eidfest, which this year celebrates 10 years – a wonderful milestone.

DAVID FORDE
Sunnybank District RSL Sub-branch president

"Getting that balance right between family, work and community activities. I'd like to compete again in the Magnetic Island to Townsville swim in July and be at the MCG in September to see the Brisbane Lions lift the premiership.

JAMES SLOMAN
Mansfield State High School principal

"To be a great dad, a reasonable husband and a high-performing principal. To deliver on the school improvement agenda and continue to position Mansfield State High School as the premier school on the southside.

DAVID O'TOOLE
Kyabra Community Association chief executive officer

"In 2014, I would like to be more attentive to those around me. I hope I can contribute to a community that aims to support all families and children to thrive and contribute to community life.
